

Hugh Heward Shuttle and Car Spotting

Thank you for using Trailspotters! There are two ways to reunite you with your vehicle.

Carspotting is the preferred option as it saves you time and you'll rest assured you'll end where your vehicle is. No waiting around! Just read how we handle passenger shuttling below and you'll be convinced carspotting is the way to go! The only caveat is that you must be on time. If we sell out, the only way you'll get onto a later van is if someone else does not show.

Shuttling you back to your vehicle after the event will require an advance RSVP before the event. Pick the time you think you'll be arriving in Grand Ledge at the end of the event. Since everyone is using their best guess when they finish, some will be earlier and some will be later than they predicted. After we seat RSVPs for the established departure time, we use the following seating priority:

- 1) RSVPs that missed a previous shuttle
- 2) RSVPs that are running early
- 3) Walk-ups

Once we seat passengers, any other latecomers, including those holding an RSVP for the time the shuttle leaves, will have to wait until the next shuttle leaves. It pays to be on time and at the shuttle departure point.
